

IDOT — INTEROPERABLE POLKADOT

— What represents IDOT

IDOT is an open-source platform that uses the distribution and decentralized nature of blockchain technology to facilitate more adoptions for the different asset classes in the Polkadot ecosystem

This new project understands some of the challenges that have been cutting down on likely adoptions of Polkadot-inspired crypto assets.

POLKA DOT is next level interoperable Blockchain system

Interoperability

The success of blockchain technology will depict when different blockchain networks can interact and integrate. For that reason, interoperability between blockchains is the concept by which different blockchains communicate with one another all in the effort of enabling smooth sharing of information.

“Polkadot is a sharded bridge-like protocol, which focuses on maintaining communication, value transfer, and pooling the security of blockchains”

— IDOT token –Binance Blockchain

Binance is foremost acceptable after Ethereum to launch projects . In may, 2021 Polkadot will deliver its projects . So makers choose Bnb as launchpad for tokenization. we are looking at the creation of crypto projects in a completely decentralized manner. By that, third-party interferences and delays in transactions would be gradually phased out. BSC Scan will be the blockchain interface for IDOT currently.

Polkadot Features

True Interoperability

Transferability of any type of data and assets not just tokens.

Transactional Scalability

It spreads transactions across multiple parallel blockchains

Substrate Framework

Easy Development with interoperability and scalability .

Polkadot Features

Forkless and Future Proof

Upgradation and even fixing of bugs of blockchain without Hardforks.

Security for everyone

Chain remains independent in governance but united with other blockchains

User driven network governance

Upgrades to network on chain and enacted autonomously
